

Dear Candidate

I'm delighted to see that our advertisement has attracted your attention and I very much hope the details on our website stimulate your interest further. INTend is the regeneration vehicle Tendring District Council has established to deliver a range of major projects and the focus of our activities is dominated by just that – delivery. We're looking to recruit a new team of inspirational professionals who relish a challenge and want to make a tangible difference by delivering these schemes and developing new projects.

It is however much more than just bricks and mortar as we want to see a complete transformational change in our communities by working with groups to deliver their aspirations.

I and my Board colleagues will be working very closely with the team helping to create the right environment both politically and within communities to ensure we can achieve our objectives.

Below you will find some useful supporting information about the area and the job packages which I hope will help you decide whether this challenge is for you. I look forward to reading your CV should you decide to apply.

Best regards
